

A NOTORIOUS CROOK.

Such Appears to be the Species to Which Beebe Belongs.

In the arrest of Chas. Beebe by Under Sheriff Walsh it is thought that some important criminal developments will be made and that Beebe, while apparently a farmer, is a notorious crook. The Kalamazoo Gazette furnishes the following in regard to Beebe:

"A letter addressed to Charles Beebe was found at Schoolcraft a few days since and the same soon fell into the hands of Sheriff Downey. It was from one of his pals in crime and spoke of the burglarizing of Schneider & Co.'s store at Grand Rapids, also several other stores that were raided not long ago and also of a close call that the gang had at Wayland. Sheriff Downey was at Schoolcraft Monday investigating the matter and at his request Under Sheriff Walsh met him yesterday here and they returned to Schoolcraft to make further inquiries, which resulted in the arrest of Beebe on the charge of stealing a watch. In Beebe's possession were letters which also mention several other crooked deals, but do not give away any of his companions in crime. One of them suggested to Beebe that he go in the night and visit the jail as he would be shot if he went in the day time."

THE SUPERVISORS.

A Short Session and a Limited Amount of Business.

The board of supervisors held a short session Wednesday morning. The bid and specifications for building the new county poor house submitted by "Bourgeois" and recommended by the committee were read by the clerk. The items contained in the bids amount to $25,000. The items in the other bid which amounted to $25,000 were called for, but after a lively discussion the reading was dispensed with and after the plans had been briefly considered the board adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock. The committee on furnishing the court house was considering propositions and designs for court house furniture yesterday afternoon. Supervisors Hogdon, Linder and Woodworth, and J. J. Ulrich will go to Muskegon today to inspect the furniture in the library there with the express purpose of getting pointers.

CUSTER RELIEF CORPS.

Hold a Meeting and Listen to Quarterly Reports.

Custer Relief Corps held a very pleasant meeting yesterday afternoon and the quarterly reports were presented. The corps has been doing effective work in the line for which it was organized. Considerable minor business of importance only to the members was transacted. It was decided to give a lawn party Tuesday evening at the residence of the president, Mrs. Alta Stewart, 22 Sycamore St. Ice cream and cake will be served. As the conclusion of the meeting the ladies adjourned to the dining-room, where a dainty tea was spread in honor of two loved members of the corps, Mrs. Hester Allen and Mrs. Maria Williams. Both ladies leave the city today, Mrs. Allen going to Chicago and Mrs. Williams going to Syracuse, N. Y.

THE SHEEP THEIF.

Arraigned and Committed in Default of Bail.

Reed Blakely, the Oakfield butcher who was arrested at Denver, Col., and landed in the Kent county jail on the charge of stealing sheep, was taken before Justice Westfall yesterday to make answer to the charge. He demanded an examination, which was set for Thursday, July 1, and being unable to furnish the $500 security required by the court for his appearance when wanted, he was returned to jail. The crime for which he was arrested occurred nearly a year ago and Blakely absconded about that time. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest by Will Spicer, of Onisco, Ionia county, who suspected him of stealing a half dozen fat sheep from his flock.

THE JOLLY WHEELMEN.

They Eat, Drink and Are Merry in Those Bright Days.

The Grand Rapids wheelmen have been invited to take dinner and supper with the Muskegon wheelmen on the Fourth of July. All who wish to accept the invitation will report at once to P. S. Hunt, 646 South Division-st., or Perkins & Richmond, Fountain-st. It is expected that one hundred bicyclists will join the tour to Detroit to the next month. The party will be entertained at Lansing and banqueted at Ann Arbor by the wheelmen of those cities.

A Game of Poker.

Henry Uhlman, of Fisher Station, sold a dressed hog to Reuben Boyce, a market man on South Division-st., about June 1, and when the porker was cut open to be placed on sale it was discovered that the meat was not of good quality. Boyce sued Uhlman in Justice Brown's court to recover the amount paid when he made the purchase. The case was tried yesterday, and the evidence submitted showed that the animal had been suffering from a sinuous abscess, which could be traced along the shoulder after it had been cut open. Judgment was rendered against the defendant for $18.67.

St. John's Day.

In commemoration of St. John's Day an informal reception was given yesterday at the Michigan Masonic Home, about two hundred Masons and their families visiting the new edifice, many of them inspecting it for the first time. The ladies of the O. E. S. and Penitentiary lodges attended in a body. Ice cream, cake and dainty refreshments were served and the afternoon was enjoyable, as well as profitable to the many who were there.

Meeting of Freight Agents.

It is expected that about July 6 a number of freight agents, from various roads all over the country, will meet in this city to attend the annual meeting of freight agents, which is to be held in Chicago, at which it is said action will be taken toward the revision of tariff rates, and a knock-out of the interstate commerce law.

HUBBELL HAS A HOBBY.

It is the Mining School at Houghton and He.

MAKES THE SQUAWBUCKS SEE IT.

Some of Its Needs. They Run His Bill—Anti-Railroad Legislation Squelched—Election and Tax Bills—Odds and Ends.

LANSING, June 24.—The Hon. J. A. Hubbell addressed the Senate in the forenoon upon the merits of the bill appropriating $44,947 for erecting a building for metallurgy and equipping the same at the mining school. His arguments were so convincing that the bill passed the senate by a vote of twenty-three to six. The bill was passed requiring the return of the names of all stockholders in the annual reports of mining companies.

The Senate refused to concur in the conference committee report on the Richardson bill for an increase of the specific tax upon the gross earnings of railroad companies by a vote of eleven to seventeen. This was followed by the defeat of the Park bill providing for the local taxation of railroad property by a vote of ten to sixteen and anti-railroad legislation has suffered a serious temporary defeat.

To agricultural college appropriation bill was taken up, and pending its passage Senator Downey moved to amend by striking out the item of $10,000 for a botanical laboratory. The motion did not prevail. The bill was then passed by a vote of 25 to 2, the opposition generally falling into line after enough votes had been secured for its passage.

A bill was passed authorizing only actual expenses for legislative committees visiting state institutions.

House Proceedings.

The Senate amendments to the Coldwater school consolidation bill were concurred in by a strict vote. The Judiciary Committee's substitute election bill was adopted and the bill placed upon the general order. A long discussion was had upon the substitute of the Judiciary Committee for the tax bill reported by the special taxation committee. The report was not concurred in, and the report of the special committee was placed on the general order. There is likely to be a warm contest over this measure. The special committee spent much time upon this bill as claimed, and are inclined to look upon the report of the judiciary committee as a usurpation. The members of the committee are prepared to defend the report and show the original report to be worthless on account of legal defects. It proposes to establish an auditor general system for collection of delinquent taxes and recommends the California system for taxation of mortgages. The bill reported by the judiciary retains the present system for collection of delinquent taxes, and aims to strengthen tax titles with a view of making it more for the interest of tax-payers to make prompt payments than to break a tax title.

Bills were passed authorizing proceedings in the circuit courts in chancery, in relation to laying out and platting real estate of infants, idiots, lunatics and other incompetents; authorizing the incorporation of woman's of Michigan. The senate bill to protect bees from poison by spraying fruit trees was lost. Also a bill providing for fish chutes in dams across the streams of the state under supervision of the fish commission. The vote on the latter was reconsidered and the bill tabled.

Equal Suffrage Associations

The Cook bill authorizing the formation of companies for the construction and maintenance of sewers was amended to apply only to cities in Muskegon county and passed.

It was discovered today that the general game bill, which had been engrossed and sent to the Governor, was not that which passed both Houses at all. The Governor had signed the bill and deposited it in the office of the Secretary of State, but he will recall it. Representative Fildes's bill providing for the appointment of two State factory inspectors was lost by 45 to 12.

Representative L. S. Johnson's bill amending the law of 1889 for care of indigent soldiers and sailors outside the Soldiers' Home, making a county instead of a township relief fund, was passed; also the Cook lien bill.

The committee on apportionment reported out the congressional and the senatorial apportionment bills. The latter has again been amended by taking the Twelfth, Fourteenth and sixteenth wards of the City of Detroit, from the sixth district and placing them in the first and the Ninth, Eleventh and Thirteenth, from the sixth district, and placing them in the sixth. The Fifteenth Ward of Detroit and the Township of Hamtramck were placed in the seventeenth districts. The former was committed to the committee. The latter was put upon its passage on motion by Representative W. B. Jackson, pending which a call of the House was ordered and the sergeant dispatched to the race track for the absentees. He was evidently overpowered for at 5 p.m. he had not returned and a recess was taken until 7:30 p.m.

At a caucus of the Democrats of the House today it was decided to consider no bill upon the question of the liquor tariff.

FOR FRESH AIR.

A Plan to Give the Little Ones a Rural Outing.

The Fresh Air Mission circle, which is composed of philanthropic ladies of Grand Rapids and has for its object the sending of poor and unhealthy children to the country, where they may breathe the pure air, is to be reorganized again this year and the good work is to continue.

Last year many mothers, who were compelled to work away from their homes for a livelihood, were relieved from the care of their little ones by the Fresh Air Mission, and a meeting will be called by the ladies in the near future to reconstitute the organization.

Already inquiries are received from those in the rural districts who entertain children last season, in regard to taking them or some others again this year. Mrs. Emma A. Wheeler received a letter yesterday from a lady in Bangor, Me., stating that she was desirous of entertaining several children.

ITHACA ITEMS.

A Shooting Affair—Commencement Exercises—Agricultural Prospects.

ITHACA, Mich., June 24.—A shooting affray took place yesterday, reliable news of which was not obtainable until today. Eli Hopkins is a young man of about 22 years of age, living at Matherton, Ionia county. Eli had long courted a 17-year-old daughter of George Teachworth, living just across the line in Montcalm county, and they were soon to be married. But it seems that the young lady's father did not look with favor upon young Hopkins, rather encouraging Aaron Kimbrey, of Riverdale, this county. On the day in question, Hopkins had in some manner secured his fiancée, and with a lively rig they were on their way to Matherton, the home of Hopkins, where they were to be married. As they came to the road running directly west from Ithaca, where it crosses the Gratiot and Montcalm county line (twelve miles from here), the trouble occurred. He says the first he knew there was any one or any trouble near at hand, he heard a man say: "Shoot him," when three revolver shots immediately followed. The first one passed through the back of their buggy and grazed the cheek of the young lady, the others taking no effect. The enraged father was accompanied by Aaron Kimbrey, the favored son. The pursuers then dashed into the pursued with their rig, entangling them and throwing both into the ditch, breaking Hopkins' buggy, but not seriously injuring anyone. The young lady told Hopkins to flee, as her father would kill him, and he immediately took to the woods. Kimbrey, the favored son, took the lady home with him, and it is thought, Teachworth, the lady's father, took to the woods, thinking he had done some serious shooting. Eli Hopkins came to town yesterday to obtain a warrant for Teachworth and Kimbrey, but our brilliant prosecuting attorney refused to grant him any, claiming that he had no proof of which side the county line the affair occurred. It certainly was not 100 rods on either side.

The Ithaca High school graduates a class of nine—three boys and six girls—on Thursday evening, July 2. Will Long, Agnes Stevenson, Lena Cady, Nellie McCall, Jessie Hererloo, Ome Curtis, Whitfield Defar, Burr Marvin and Birdella Webster compose the class. Elaborate preparations are being made for the commencement exercises.

Much rain fell in this section last week and crops are doing finely.

The Board of Supervisors met at this place on Monday. Under the new law recently enacted by the Legislature, the supervisors re-appointed the old board of school examiners.

The Gratiot County Agricultural Society have built a new fence around their fair grounds, and a new sidewalk has been constructed from the village to the fair grounds. This society is now in a prosperous condition.

Gratiot county will have the largest crop of peaches this season that it has had for many years. Cherries, strawberries and raspberries are also a fair crop. Apples are a very small crop.

Ithaca will celebrate in the good old fashioned way the coming Fourth of July.

The rebuilding of the M. E. Church is fast reaching completion. It will be one of the most handsome buildings in town when completed.

Max Giesberger, a Jew clothing merchant of this place, who left for Chicago a few weeks ago, and of whom nothing was heard for so long as to cause some alarm for his safety, returned last Friday all safe and sound. "Only having a good time, as well as business," as he puts it, and not married, as some would have it.

James Donaldson, a painter of this place, lost a fine trotting horse Monday by leaving some paria green in a rag where the animal got at it and took enough to produce death in a short time.

HOPE COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises Yesterday and the Program.

HOLLAND, June 24.—The commencement exercises of Hope College held today were attended by a large audience. The Latin salutatory was delivered by John Seitsma, of Coopersville, and the other numbers were as follows: "What is Man Worth?" Jerry Winter; essay—Woman's Work, Miss Fannie Stevens; Educational Evolution, D. Gleystein, Jr., Orange City, Iowa; Life Without Principle, Gerrit H. Alberts, Overisel, Mich.; Valedictory, John M. Vander Meuten, Ewener, Mich. Then followed the offering of certificates and the conferring of degree of A. B. upon Fannie A. Steffens, Gerrit H. Alberts, D. Gleystein, Jr., John Seitsma, John M. Vander Meuten and Jerry Winter. The Master's oration was delivered by Peter J. Zwemer, his subject being the Iola of today. The exercises were pleasantly intermingled with music consisting of instrumental and vocal solos.

A WATER SPOUT.

A City Water Main Bumps Itself and Does Some Damage.

While digging for connections with the city water mains on Monroe-st., the workmen accidentally struck an old pot and immediately the water spouted out in a large stream, reaching as high as the third story windows in the block over Stauffer's dry goods store. The rooms are occupied by a Mr. Simmons, and before the window could be closed a portion of the contents of the room was badly damaged. The office directly beneath received a drenching. Down stairs in Mr. Stauffer's dry goods store the worst havoc was wrought, almost everything in the display windows being ruined. He estimates his loss at from $300 to $1000. It took ten or fifteen minutes to shut off the water.

DORAN AND WHITE.

Get Their Bits Through the House Committee at the White.

LANSING, Mich., June 24.—The House committee of the whole this evening agreed to Representative White's bill for a general board of control for the insane asylums of the state and Senator Doran's bill providing for a salary, instead of fees, for the clerk, register of deeds and treasurer of Kent county, and Representative Barker's bill providing a franchise tax of one-half mill on each dollar of the capital stock of corporations.

IN POLICE COURT.

Meat Almost Knocked Out Judge, Prisoners and Spectators.

In the police court yesterday the principal cause for discomfort was a preponderance of suffocating heat. The judge sweated and the spectators smeltered. There was an anxious desire on the part of all to leave the court room and he themselves away to some shady nook "by the side of a little running stream," where the tedious duties of life for a brief spell could be left behind. In spite of this feeling, a small amount of business was worried through. John Doyle got under the cooling influence of beer to such an extent that he lost his surroundings. The ever watchful "coop" discovered him, and yesterday morning John paid $5.35 for his indulgence. Frank Johnson was a similar subject. The judge suspended sentence in his case. Oscar Bergman, an alleged tippler, was discharged. Chas. E. Eickner paid a fine of $5.35 for being drunk. Albert Luno, Otto Luno and William Weaver, three disorderlies, were discharged. George Kurshman, drunk, adjourned to July 1. Henry DeMaat, obstructing street railway, adjourned to June 27. Henry Dunders was sent to jail for twenty days for being disorderly. Cornelius DeYoung, arrested on the same complaint, was discharged. Walter Weimuther, larceny of less than $25, adjourned to June 27. James Burton, drunk, adjourned to July 25. Mick Wolcher, disorderly conduct, discharged. Wm. Murphy, obstructing street railway, adjourned to June 25. Chas. Holmstrom, larceny of more than $25, adjourned to July 8. Henry Smith, truancy, sentence suspended until July 8. James Goodin pleaded not guilty to the charge of stealing a banjo from Nancy Sweet. He will have a hearing June 30. John Kamp, a peddler, arrested for selling goods without a license, took out the necessary papers, paid the costs and was discharged. Chas. Beebe, a farmer from Schoolcraft, arrested by Under Sheriff Walsh for stealing a watch from a female on Waterloo-st., pleaded not guilty to the charge of larceny, and will have a hearing July 9. Arthur Gammage, arraigned on the charge of perjury, will have a hearing June 26.

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

Grand River Lodge, F. & A. M., Present a Neat Program.

Grand River Lodge, F. and A. M., gave a very enjoyable concert at their hall last evening, on Lyon-st., in which all who partook volunteered their services. The following program was rendered:

1. Overture—Orchestra.
2. Address—St. John's Day, Rev. Geo. Whitworth.
3. Solo—Miss Della Owen.
4. Legende—Senior Lopez.
5. Duet—Force and Wellenstein.
6. Solo—Miss White.
7. Recital—Miss Florence Lopez.
8. Solo—Miss Della Owen.
9. Selection by Orchestra.
10. Stereopticon views.

The first number on the program was rendered in a very pleasing manner by an orchestra with Josef Wellenstein as director. The address by Rev. Geo. Whitworth was interesting in its extreme and enlightened many not Masons as to the significance of St. John's day, as observed by the F. & A. M. throughout the world. For the purpose of being more explicit one of the stereopticon views was used. The magician lantern threw on the white canvas a large circle, on the left hand of which St. John the Baptist was represented and on the right St. John the Evangelist. The reverend gentleman said that the two saints referred to were the oldest patrons of the order of masonry. In this country the people celebrate Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving day, Emancipation day, Christmas and New Years. All of these days were set apart in commemoration of some great deed done, or as a reminder that Christ died to save mankind. St. John's day was one held apart by the Masonic fraternity for the purpose of enlarging those generous principles which it is the object of Masonry to promote. It was with this in view that they had all given their mite to establish the Masonic home at Reed's Lake. Inside the circle was a point which the speaker said represented the Mason who had shown himself to be eligible, and if he never wandered from the ring which circumscribed the Masonic home, he would be a true Mason. Rev. Whitworth's remarks were interesting throughout. Miss Della Owen sang a solo which brought forth much applause and Senior Lopez gave the audience a treat in legende-main, which kept those present in a continuous laughter. The duet by Prof. Wellenstein and Wilber Force was one of the best executed numbers on the program, the selection being classical. Miss White's solo, "Anna Laura," was highly appreciated. When Miss Florence Lopez rendered the recitation, "The Blacktown Auction Sale," she showed herself to be possessed of rare talent and extraordinary ability as an elocutionist. The audience was delighted with her, and she received the only encore of the evening. She responded with the "District School." Miss Della Owen rendered another solo and then the program was concluded, with various stereopticon views, during the exhibiting of which Rev. Whitworth lectured concerning scenes. After the concert refreshments were served.

A Patent Case.

The Elliott Button Fastener Company has filed a bill of complaint in the Federal court against Neil Malloy, asking for an injunction restraining the defendant from using a patent device for inserting metallic staples in paper and other substances. The complainants aver that they are the sole owners of the patent, having purchased the same from George W. McGill, patentee, of New York. The company also asks for payment of all the gains and profits arising from the unlawful use of the invention and all damages sustained from the infringement.

New Read City Depot.

The plans of the new depot to be erected at Read City by the G. R. & I. and F. & A. P. M. railroads, are now in the hands of the Builders and Trades' Exchange for competitive bids. The building will be rectangular in shape, 74 1/2 feet across the widest diameter. It will contain two baggage rooms, two ticket offices, two waiting rooms, a kitchen and restaurant, and all the other conveniences usually found about a depot. It will cost about $15,000.

SOME FAMOUS FLYERS.

Among the Horses Entered for Next Week's Races.

A TREAT FOR THE LOVERS OF SPEED.

Look at the List and be Convinced—The Races Promise to be the Best Ever Seen in Western Michigan—Wait and See Them.

If there are any cynics who have their doubts about the quality of the races to be held in this city next week, he need only cast his critical eye over a few of the names of celebrated horses given below. Since the very inception of the idea of the July races, those in charge have been hustling, and the races promise to be the very best ever held in Western Michigan, if not in the entire State.

The free-for-all pace, purse $1000, will show up as hot a field as ever passed under a wire. Johnston, 2:06 1/2, the holder of the fastest record ever trotted or paced in harness, is entered by his owner, C. F. Dunbar, of Buffalo. Another star is Yolo Maid, who has already this season done miles in less than 2:10 and has a record of 2:12 1/2. She is competent to give any horse a hard race. She is entered by her owner, Marcus Daily, the Anaconda, Montana, "cooper king." Grant's Abdallah, 1:17, which is no measure of the speed of the animal, is another of the hustlers, entered by Robert Stewart, of Kansas City. Last season he pushed Hat Pointer, 2:08 1/2, to his utmost speed in several races.

Crocket, 2:10, M. Salsbury's California crack, is apt to do the record at any time. The very mention of the name Crockett is a guarantee of fast time.

The free-for-all trot will keep the talent guessing.

Alicyon, 2:15 1/2, has beaten Nelson, the fastest stallion in the world, perhaps, unless it be Alicyon himself, and his record is nowhere near his limit. He is the fastest Michigan horse in the race yet if he wants to win he must beat Homestead, 2:14, Stevie 2:15, and the celebrated Margaret S, 2:12. Any horseman can see blood on the moon in such a field as this.

"One of the hottest races we have prepared for the speed-loving public," said Secretary Tateum yesterday, "is the 2:18 trot, Ripple, 2:17, the horse that made the Saginaw people seek will be in it from wire to wire."

Play Boy, 2:10 1/2, who won heats of a $10,000 stake race at Detroit last year, will try to get back at Walter E who is also in this race. Walter E was the horse that got the three heats of the same stake race. Before they walk off with the pie, they will have to beat Andy McDowell's Lord Byron, (four year old record 2:18).

This race comes off on Wednesday the first day of the race. The slower classes, 2:30, 2:37, 2:40 and three teams are all loaded full, and the winners will have to do at least ten seconds better than the time of the class to win.

Some of the most celebrated stables in the country are represented. The strings of Andy McDowell, Bob Stewart, Ger Grimes, M. Salsbury, Major Quimby, Croxton Brothers, A. T. Miller, of Saginaw, A. Sowersby, Buffalo, C. T. Denbar, Buffalo, and Frank Noble, of Grand Rapids, with many others will all be here.

The colt stake races present the finest fields ever seen in Michigan and average over six to the class. The running races promise to be a great feature and entries are numerous. They will add zest to the already good program. The track is in elegant shape and is said by the horsemen to be even faster than the Detroit track. Entries to all the races keep coming in every day and the stands at the fair ground are already filling full of speedy ones.

OILY SWAN.

The Half Has Not Been Told About His Swindlings.

"Still there is more to follow." A correspondent says that "the half has not been told in regard to the baselessness of H. W. Swan. Without any solicitation names of people who have been victimized still continue to pour in. George Hart the cigar dealer, is one of the men not mentioned yesterday who was swindled out of $52 by placing too much confidence in Oily Swan. Hiven & Allyn, fish dealers, were patronized by Swan and in consequence are still out. This firm went so far as to swear out a warrant, but on account of Swan's sharpness were unable to do anything with him. The facts published yesterday prove not to be the worst of this man's actions. The following, which is vouched for by a reputable citizen, whose name is on file, will tend to show up a little more of Swan's rascality:

GRAND RAPIDS, June 24, 1891.

Editor Telegram-Herald:

The half, probably, is not told in your article of this morning about Swan. The meanest, dirtiest thing he ever did was with his servant. She is a poor homeless girl, a cripple by reason of a fall having nearly broken her back a few years since. Her health is in a precarious condition and she depends entirely upon her own exertion for existence and clothes. Under one pretext and another he kept putting her off about her pay, till he was owing her $14. When she came to a point where she must have the money and told him so, he discharged her and refused to pay her. Her health is such now that she is dependent on a friend, while he smokes his cigar, supports several dogs and spends his valuable time playing billiards at Sweet's, and getting knocked down by Bellaire, the renowned "Silica Baryte" fellow. Ours Who Knows.

P. S.—This is the man who, when he got his marriage license, secured a "half" number of collision with Frank Hine at the county clerk's office, so that the papers would not get hold of it. It will be remembered that the same was given a good airing at the time.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES.

The "Sweet Six" Kind and the Other Kind.

The twenty-ninth annual graduating exercises of the Grand Rapids High School will be held tomorrow morning in the Fountain-street Baptist Church. The program for the exercises has been prepared with special care, and will be given to the printer this morning. It is as follows:

1. Organ Voluntary—W. R. Cornelius.
2. Chorus—"Praise Ye the Father." Members of High School.
3. Prayer.
4. Chorus—"Spring Song."
5. Address—Hon. Geo. L. Yapple.
6. Song—"Goddess of the Inland Seas."
7. Presenting of Diplomas—Principal W. A. Green.
8. Address to the Class—Rev. W. J. Russell.
9. Chorus—"Golden Land."
10. Benediction.

There are sixty-four graduates, in seven classes—the Elective, Preparatory English, German-English, French-English, Latin-German, Latin-French, and Classical courses. The graduates are as follows:

THE SUFFRAGE CLUB.

It Meets and Discusses "Why I Want the Ballot."

The meeting of the Equal Suffrage Club held yesterday was well attended. The address, "Why I Want the Ballot," given by the president, was received with most flattering appreciation. At the unanimous request of both members and visitors it will be given for publication.

An amusing incident of the suffrage campaign in South Dakota, as told by Anna Shaw, was read, and a hundred copies of the paper were ordered by the club.

As items of encouragement the voting of the women at Harrison, Tenn., was spoken of, and the fact was emphasized that as the women collectively reached the polling place several hundreds of men received them with uplifted hats, thereby proving that women will receive the same respect as voters that is accorded them in any other discharge of duty. The passage of the bill giving women the right to vote at school elections to the women of Illinois was spoken of, as was the handsome majority given by the legislature of that state for woman's municipal enfranchisement. The assured political rights of the women of Australia is another advance, which was noted with pleasure. A kind farewell was given the hostess, Mrs. Englefield, who left the meeting and started on a business trip to Denver. Such work was spoken of for the autumn months, but arrangements were postponed until the club should resume its meetings in August. A motion to adjourn until Aug. 19 prevailed.

Late Criminal News.

Mrs. Shatten, of 251 Center-st., was robbed by a servant girl of a diamond ring valued at $50, a plume, some ostrich tips, and several other articles, amounting in all to $75. The goods were recovered, and as this is the girl's first offense her name is withheld. No complaint will be made against her.

Frank Maloney was arrested by a deputy sheriff for assault and battery.

Geo. A. Seamon was arrested on Grandville-ave., for being drunk.

Wm. M. Bellamy was taken into custody by an officer on North Division-st., for intoxication.

Ed Collins and Geo. White were arrested in the Lake Shore freight yards as drunks.

Tom Campbell was arrested on Calder-st., for being disorderly and using indecent language. He was mad at his sister.
